

Update on the Eastern Alberta Transmission Line

ATCO Electric | works for you

ATCO Electric recently mailed a Project Update for the Eastern Alberta Transmission Line to directly impacted landowners. It is part of our on-going program to keep landowners informed at every phase of our project.

The Update provides an overview of the six Information Sessions we hosted in June, and explains the next steps in the process now that the Alberta Utilities Commission has scheduled a public hearing to begin January 16, 2012.

Through the summer, ATCO Electric will be reviewing some potential minor route adjustments. Representatives will also be meeting with landowners to obtain early access and right-of-way agreements to allow us to begin surveying and preliminary engineering activities.

For the most up to date information on the Eastern Alberta Transmission Line, visit our website at www.atcoelectric.com or contact the project team directly.
